REST - Representational State Transfer

Design a remote API for a storage system by using HTTP

- Function names : method and URL

- Function arguments : URL and request body

- Returned value : status code and response body

REST concepts

Mostly storage systems are meant to store

- Collections (or ressources)

- Elements that belongs to one or several collections